FINE LINES

Kelly Beeman is no ordinary fashion illustrator—her abstract portraits nod toward those of Picasso while pushing the boundaries of traditional feminine forms. For this particular work, commissioned for designer Jonathan Anderson's fashion label, JW Anderson, Beeman played with shapes and silhouettes that explore the body in a more androgynous—and less-exposed—way. With its monochromatic palette and avant-garde silhouettes, Beeman's painting offered the perfect muse for this curation of edgy items featuring linear lines and contrasting materials portrayed in black and white.
